The Daily Gazette.
City of Janesville.
Wednesday Evening, May 14, 1862.
Official Paper of the City.

One of the most unexpected and cheering signs of the times is the present market value of government securities. United States government sixes of 1881, sell in New York for 105 1/2, and 7 3/8 treasury notes at 105 1/2, while gold scarcely touches 32 per cent. premium. This extraordinary prosperity of the treasury after the tremendous drafts on its resources for the last year, is a matter of the greatest surprise as well as satisfaction.

Our latest accounts from Pittsburg landing are up to yesterday. The army of Gen. Halleck appears to be moving forward very slowly and surrounding Corinth. Pickets of the enemy were driven in three and a half miles from Corinth, and an abandoned camp of the enemy occupied by our troops. Very little news is received from our army, and nothing is known positively what are the general movements on either side. The forces pitted against each other are immense, and are daily increasing. We expect a battle every day.

Our naval victory on the Mississippi appears to have been dearly bought. The rebels have made more impression, this time, upon our gunboats than ever before. The delay on the part of Gen. Fremont in attacking them, it is said, has been in consequence of the number of rams which the rebels had prepared, and if an attack on our part should prove unsuccessful, the whole river above, would be at the mercy of the enemy. Their whole reliance on the water is on these rams. But they are not invulnerable as has been proved at Fort Wright, and also at New Orleans.

McClellan's army is within thirteen miles of Richmond. The enemy's forces appear to be receding from the Rappahannock. We hear nothing further of their crossing the James river. The Monitor and the gunboats can command the two rivers, and Richmond must soon be ours.

Gen. Fremont has taken the field, advancing up the south branch of the Potomac, towards Monterey, where Gen. Schenck and Milroy have formed a junction. It is in this direction that he intends to reach the East Tennessee railroad. The enemy is in considerable force on his route, and a battle in the mountain may soon be expected, or a running away on the part of the enemy.

Coms. Farragut and Porter are threatening Mobile and it will not be long until we hear of the capture of that city. General Butler has possession of New Orleans, and has issued a good proclamation to the people. Everything, however, wears a gloomy aspect in that city. The Union men appear uncertain of permanent protection, while the secession mob threatens dire vengeance when they are again in possession, which event they profess to believe is not far distant. It will be some time before distrust is removed.

Northern Arkansas is in our possession, and a portion of our troops are withdrawing.

Report of the Board of Education.

Messrs. Editors:—The question of school expenditures having arisen, in connection with our city finances, under some degree of misapprehension—and in a way to call attention to the school interests for the coming year—we beg leave to submit the following report:—

At the commencement of the school year in April, 1860, it is well known that the school fund was relieved of indebtedness to the amount of some $2,400, and it is presumed by many that such was the entire amount of indebtedness. The treasurer's report, however, for the year 1860-61 shows old orders cashed to an amount, sufficient, with non-collected taxes to exclude the payment of orders issued during such year to the amount of, at least, $1,822.11, which amount has been met as indebtedness incurred since April 15th, 1861. For school expenditures the charter plainly provides, by city tax $6,500, allowing the use of such amount by the board of education and procuring its collection. This amount is further increased by county tax, state appropriation, licenses, &c., charter and law appropriating such exclusively to school use. The estimated resources of the board for the past year were as follows:

City tax	$6,500
County tax	1,200
State appropriation	750
Other sources	200
Total	$8,650

Receipts for the school fund, from April 15th, 1861, to April 15th, 1862, are furnished by the treasurer, as follows:

Proportion of collected city tax	$5,012.00
From county tax	1,769.82
State money	733.20
From licenses, foreign scholars, &c.	276.50
Total	$7,791.52

The amount of school tax uncollected being $1,188, which added to amount of receipts gives for the year's school credit, proper, $9,270.62. The total school expenses for such included time are summed in:

Expenses for teachers.....$5,767.37
General expenses.....2,810.24

Total $8,577.61

Leaving a balance due the school fund of $701.91, which the board had a right to use for school purposes, according to section 15 of chapter 8 of the city charter, which reads: "The board of education shall not contract indebtedness, incur liability or appropriate money in any one year to a greater amount than the amount of school funds to be raised by tax and received from other sources in such year, &c."

The reports as we have them prove, then, that the expense of sustaining our schools for the past year has been considerably less than the charter contemplates.

It is acknowledged that "our public schools are probably not excelled by any in the west," and that they are "the pride of our people," is to us the clearest indication of willingness to support the system.—Graduate schools are not losing popular favor. "The highest aims of a Christian people" in the matter of education are to be limited only by ability. The expense of supporting our high school, a branch which cannot be dropped without crippling and destroying the whole system, has not become responsible in itself, for the enormities some times charged. We believe in all possible retrenchment. Let the band of retrenchment fall where it shall not effect every department of our school interests. A portion of indebtedness has been met by reduction of school expenses during the past year.—With proper management, this may be reduced still more until, with the usual appropriation the school fund may be entirely relieved from embarrassment and the prosperity of the schools be increased.

By order of the Board,
WM. B. STRONG, President,
E. F. SPAULDING, Secretary.

From the Fifth Regiment.

Camp No. 11, Fort Magruder,
Near Williamsburg, Va., May 10, 1862.

MY DEAR WIFE:—Ere this reaches you, you will hear by telegraph of our regiment being in battle. I will give you a history of it: On the morning of the 4th, about 2 A. M., our pickets found that the rebels had been sent evacuating Yorktown, and also the whole line of fortifications in front of us. We sent over skirmishers and scouts, and found that all was deserted. We followed up as soon as we could with our forces, and found the best lot of forts I ever saw. They had one directly back of the other, and in all manner of shapes; they seemed to me to be all built of the best materials. The embankments were all walled up with sand bags, and it would never have been abandoned by our forces, for we would not have left them until we had been starved out. We found several shells laid in the road, covered up and capped over, so that a man stepping on them would explode them, but as good luck would have none were hurt by them.

Our advance guard, when we passed their works, came in sight of their rear guard about 10 A. M., on Sunday, but they left too fast for our men, and could not get at them. Our forces followed them all day and bivouacked in line of battle. I had been sick since we had the fight of the 16th of April, but I started with them in the morning, marched about six miles and gave out; was not strong enough to stand it. I got in an ambulance and rode up with the baggage and was in the rear with them until this morning; was not in the fight of yesterday. I came up with the ambulance train this morning, but will give you the particulars as near as I can get them from the boys. I hope if my company is in another battle to be with them, but I assure you I would at the same time desire to come out safe.

Our forces started at daylight in the morning, and formed ready to advance. Companies A, G and E were ordered ahead as skirmishers; advanced up to within about 800 yards of Fort Magruder at 12 M., and laid there until 4 P. M., and the enemy then attacked us. Our men were not strong in force. The 5th Wisconsin was in the center, and had the fighting to do; the 6th Maine on our left, and the 7th Maine on our right. The battle was fierce on both sides; they came out into a wheat field with six regiments of rebels, our men contesting the ground about two hundred yards to rear, fighting them with fury; and in falling back our force got them out of the woods and effectually checked them, and finally drove them from the field.

Our company was deployed ahead in the woods as skirmishers, with companies A and G. The enemy coming upon us with six regiments in force, and drove in our skirmishers. In that chase Orderly Sergeant Hearn, of our company, was shot through the head, just above his ears, killing him instantly. He was buried this morning. He died fighting as bravely as brave could be; he was loved and respected by our whole regiment, and his place is hard to fill. I have resigned and he was to have taken my place, although I have not got my discharge yet, but expect it soon. As yet, we here do not know the result of yesterday's battle along our whole lines. You can get the report of the battle as it comes through the press, because one man can see but a small part of a battle.

We, in our regiment, lost ten killed, and forty wounded, some of them mortally. In our company Corporal George Thorgate was wounded in the chin—he had on a steel-plated vest, the ball striking him in the breast glancing up, hitting him under the chin and coming out at the mouth; T. G. Richard on, flesh wound in the leg; R. W. Webster, slight wound in the spine, with buck shot; Rodney Johnson was hit in the breast or pit of the stomach with a bullet, but he had on a bullet-proof vest—the ball knocked him down and made a dent in it, about an inch, but did not go through it, but it broke the skin and made rather a dangerous wound. Had he not had on the vest, it would have killed him dead. I could tell you of a thousand narrow escapes from death which are almost wonderful, but I have not time or space to do it all. Every man from colonel to private behaved in the bravest manner.

Captain Wheeler drew his sword and showed himself a braver. Says he, "Go in, boys,—give them a—!! Don't run for the devils," at the same time they were advancing on us six to one, and they were driving us back as fast as men could retreat and fight; but they having poor arms and our men the best kind, our men drove them back after two hours hard fighting, taking about 200 prisoners, and about 100 killed, which we buried to-day; we have about 60 of their wounded here, and any amount of arms of all descriptions and kinds. Our Sergeant Hathaway, as the enemy was advancing, received a bullet in his knapsack, but it did not go through, but it went through six thicknesses of a double blanket, striking a copper rivet and giving him a good start ahead, but "Old Snaps" as the boys call him, turned around and shot the rebel colonel dead from his horse, saying, "Stop your coming this way." Several of our boys say they are certain that it was Hathaway who killed him, but Hathaway says his gun smoked so that he could not tell what the effect was; but he meant to bring him to pay for Sergeant Hearn's death. Now it is that our loss is so small, I cannot tell, but luck was on our side.

Capt. Hugh, of company G, was wounded in the hip, the ball going clear through him. It is a dangerous wound and he will have to be sent home. As Capt. Hugh lay on the ground, wounded, a rebel came up and was about to bayonet him; he caught the bayonet and turned it away, and at that instant a rebel major came up and would not let the rebel hurt him. Capt. Hugh then drew his sword and gave it to the major, and thanked him for saving his life; but as the major received it, he also received one of our Austrian bullets, killing him instantly. Were it in my power to give a description of the battle in full I would, but as it is, I cannot; not being present, I have to get the particulars from hearing the boys tell their own stories, as each saw it, and they all tell the same story as near as men can tell. I have no more at present.

Yours,
JAMES MILLER.

P. S. I wish you to take this letter to Mrs. Hearn and show it to her. Oh, how must she feel! But he died bravely—he was a good soldier and brave—he died fighting. I wish you to go and see her as soon as you get this, I would tell her that under the circumstances it was an impossible thing to send his body home. We had four men wounded besides Sergeant Hearn, but their wounds are not dangerous.

I am not as yet able to march, but hope I will be in a few days. I have had the lowland fever, or a kind of dumb ague. Our boys are making up a purse to send to Mrs. Hearn, and I expect to get my papers and go home soon. I shall not be able to march again if the regiment should go now, but think I will be in three or four days, if I don't have another paler back. This morning, before I found our regiment, I heard every time that I inquired for them that they were in the hottest of the battle, and did the best fighting of any regiment. They took all the prisoners, 187 in all—160 well and 27 wounded—and about 150 dead, which our pioneers buried to day.

I have a letter that Hearn wrote to his wife as he started for the advance, on Sunday morning, and shall mail it as soon as I have a chance, with this. I cannot express my feelings about Hearn's death.

Jo Rogers has just come in here and given me $60.50 to give to Mrs. Hearn as a token of esteem from our boys.

Lieut. Claus was here to-night, and is going up the York river; was well, and he gave $10 for Mrs. Hearn, I gave $10, the Captain will give $10, and our boys will give enough to make it up to $100.00, a token of esteem from Mrs. Hearn. By so doing we wish to show our sympathy for her loss.

I am here writing and as I write our hands are playing, it is the first time they have played in three weeks and over.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE.

Office in Union Passenger Depot

Last Night's Report.

Cairo, May 12.

Special to Chicago Post:—The steamer Dan Pallock was just arrived from the flotilla. Capt. Stembel came up on her, seriously wounded, but is considered out of danger. Passengers who came up report that the rebels had three rams, which were the only vessels engaged in the fight, but one of the rebel gunboats having come within range of the ram which ran down the Cincinnati, was greatly injured. It is supposed she afterwards sunk, but the smoke was so dense and hung over the water for an hour after the fight, so that it was impossible to ascertain definitely the damage sustained by the rebels.

The ram Van Dorn ran into the Mound City, injuring her bow. She afterwards sunk, but was pumped out, and is now being towed up the river for repairs.

A ram, supposed to be the Sumter, made for the Pittsburg, but the Benton having in the meantime arrived at the scene of action, poured several broadsides into her, compelling her to retire, and she was lost sight of in the smoke. The Cincinnati lies on the Tennessee shore in nine feet of water, but will be raised immediately. We lost one man killed and several slightly wounded. The rebels did not fire more than 10 guns during the entire engagement, which lasted 40 minutes. The Mexico had a gun of heavy calibre in her bow, but the fire from the Cincinnati was so heavy that her gunners were unable to serve it. The rebel gunboats did not enter into the action at all, but the rebels seemed to depend entirely on their rams to perform their work. Two of them approached within range and were blown up by shot from our 30 pounder Parrott guns, which entered their boilers. The decks of the rams and all their boats were lined with infantry. It was evidently the purpose of the rebels to run down all our gunboats and come up the river. Their loss is said to have been fearful. Besides the effect of our guns the steam batteries from the Mound City and Cincinnati were brought to bear on the borders on the rams with terrible slaughter. The rams are all clad with railroad iron, but not entirely enclosed. All shots which struck on their sides proved harmless, glancing. I am unable at this late hour to give further particulars.

[Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, May 10.

Gov. Johnson has issued a proclamation, ordering that in every instance in which Union men are arrested or maltreated by marauding bands, five or more rebels from the most prominent in the immediate neighborhood should be imprisoned or otherwise dealt with as the case may require.

In cases where the property of loyal citizens is taken or destroyed full remuneration shall be made off the property of such rebels in the vicinity as have sympathized or given aid, comfort, information or encouragement to the parties committing depredations. The order will be executed in the letter and spirit. Citizens are warned, under heavy penalties, from entertaining, receiving or encouraging such persons.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

New York, May 14.

Herald's dispatch.—Washington May 13.—Matters in the department of the Rappahannock remain unchanged. The enemy's pickets are stationed about 5 miles beyond Fredericksburg, consisting principally of cavalry, the only infantry pickets being on the Bowling Green road. Dashes by our cavalry have decided the fact that the great body of the enemy has been heavily supported in this vicinity. The railroad bridge of the Rappahannock, under the supervision of Gen. Gibbon, is rapidly approaching completion, as are all the other necessary repairs to the road. Several residents of Fredericksburg have been arrested for treason and sent to Washington for confinement.

The celebrated Bonner team trotted two miles on the Fashion course yesterday, in five minutes five and a quarter seconds. Bonner drove himself. This is said to be 17 seconds quicker than the same distance was ever done before.

Times correspondent.—Gen. Fremont arrived here, early to-day, at the head of his army, having come by forced marches, to the relief of Schenck and Milroy. He immediately reviewed the regiments here stationed, and rode a little beyond town. The enemy decamped last night, and are now retreating. In the recent battle at McDowell our loss was 30 killed and about 200 wounded; many but slightly. The troops are all in high spirits and full of expectation.

Washington, May 13.

Tribune's special.—The judiciary committee of the house have agreed to report in favor of the admission of the third member from California.

A delegation from Columbus, O., urged the claims of that place as a site for a national armory, before the military committee of the house, to-day.

Acting Provost Marshal Col. Gates yesterday took charge of the post office at Fredericksburg, ousting the rebel postmaster, who has held the same office for twenty years under the federal government, and grown rich upon it. He had the effrontery to demand $45, which he said the United States post office department owed him, and he would not let the contract post office department leave Washington, for New York, to open the post office at that place. The mails will be sent by the old route, via Fortress Monroe.

Representative Lovejoy's bill, which has passed both houses, establishes a department of agriculture with a commissioner's salary of $3,000 per annum, as chief executive officer. It is separate and distinct from all other departments, and exclusively devoted to agriculture.

The recent act of the legislature of New York, placing its canals at the disposal of the government, so far as to allow the enlargement of its canal locks to a size adequate to the passage of vessels able to defend the same from hostile attacks, was placed on the table of Congress, this morning, accompanied by a letter from Capt. Ericson, and also by evidence furnished by extracts from the London Times showing the defenceless condition of American commerce on the lakes, and the ability of England at any time to take immediate and complete control of them.

A meeting of the conservative members of congress from all the states, for the defeat of secession in the abolitionists and secessionists, was held this evening in the hall of representatives, Mr. Crittenden in the chair, and Mr. Cox secretary.

Mr. Richardson, to test the sense of the meeting, moved that the chairman have power to call them together when it again became necessary in order that they might make arrangements for defeating secession, and also measures. There was no legislation pending of which they knew enough to determine what course to take. They were in the midst of shifting scenes. He therefore suggested that the report prepared be not submitted, for when a report was adopted there was no recalling it. They should hold themselves in readiness to act in all measures as policy might dictate.

Mr. Kellogg concurred in the suggestion. He thought the results of the meeting on Saturday highly beneficial. He referred to the modifications of the bill intended to secure freedom to the persons within the territories of the United States, it having been stripped of its other features.

Mr. Cox said we had not killed the abolition business yet. All conservative men ought to consult upon what action should be pursued at all times. The committee to be appointed ought to see that their friends are in their seats, to defeat mischievous legislation, and some plan for concerting and combining at any time when necessary.

Mr. Mallory concurred in the views just expressed.

It was finally concluded to appoint a committee of seven members for the purposes suggested.

Mr. Crittenden suggested it was desirable that congress should adjourn at an early day.

Mr. Wyckoff said it appeared that the senate had determined not to adjourn, and had rejected the house resolution fixing the time.

Mr. Mallory remarked that he had had a conversation with Senator Fessenden, and was informed by him that they would be ready to adjourn by the middle of June.

Senator Powell said he had heard some extreme men remark that they would not adjourn during the war.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

Cairo, May 13.

In the naval engagement Saturday, the gunboat Cincinnati was more seriously damaged by the frequent bulging she received from the rebel rams than was at first reported. She was compelled to run in order to the last arrival from the fleet, 10 feet of water on her gun deck. The government derrick had gone down to raise her. It is supposed she would be floated again by to-day.

The federal gunboat Mound City, which did excellent service during the engagement, was struck in a similar manner to the Cincinnati, but not so badly damaged. She was run into shoal water when she settled to the bottom, has been pumped out, and arrived here to-day in tow.

These are only rumors. The Champion, from Aspinwall, brings $48,000 in specie. Tribune's special, dated Monterey, Tenn., May 12th.—To-day our troops took possession of an evacuated rebel camp, three and a half miles from Corinth, and the rebel pickets were driven in.

The Mobile Register of the 8th states that five federal gunboats have appeared off Dolphin Island.

The Register of the 4th records an interview between Gen. Butler and the mayor and council, and that they continue their functions, except upon political and military offenses. No oath of allegiance has been required.

Washington, May 14.

Robert Mowbray, chief clerk of the house of representatives, left here, to-day, for the headquarters of Gen. McClellan, bearing with him a handsomely engrossed copy of the resolution of thanks passed by the house on Friday last. Mr. Mowbray will deliver these to the general in person.

The military department recently restored, includes the state of Kansas, the Indian territory west of Arkansas, and the territories of Nebraska, Colorado and Nevada, with the headquarters at Fort Leavenworth.

Batesville, Ark., May 10.

Correspondence of St. Louis Democrat.—A portion of General Davis and General Ashbel's divisions, and two of General Steele's regiments left here, to-day, for the north. An adequate force is still here, however, for operations in this direction. Our advance under General Osterhaus crossed the White river on the 8th, on the road to Little Rock, the capital of the state. As many as 150 persons per day have come forward and taken the oath of allegiance, embracing judges, lawyers, ministers and many of the most influential citizens. This sentiment of the people is rapidly becoming more and more loyal.

The news of our occupation of this place was received by Governor Reuter, at Little Rock, on the 5th, and produced great excitement. Some of the citizens advised peace, while others were rampant for defending the city to the last extremity. On the following day the Governor issued a proclamation calling on the state militia to repair immediately to the capital to repel the invaders. Many of the militia were issued special calls. Six thousand Texans were daily expected at Little Rock, but they were under orders for Corinth. Guerrilla bands are being formed in some sections, and large mobs may be mustered at county seats, but no serious obstacles to our advance are feared. Albert Pike, at last accounts, was camped at Boggy Depot, 100 miles southwest of Fort Smith.

Monterey, May 14.

The reconnoissance, yesterday, under Brigadier Gen. A. J. Smith, had a skirmish with the rebel pickets on our right, eight killed and two wounded. Our loss two. A party went within half a mile of a rebel battery, supported by a brigade of infantry. A federal camp to-day, in four miles from here to the front. Our forces average two and a half to three miles from the enemy's entrenchments. Although the army is advancing slowly, because of the nature of the ground necessitating the building of corduroy and bridges. It is generally understood that an engagement will come off in the course of a week.

The Markets.

DIED.

In the hospital, at Lawrence, Kansas, on the 23d of April, WM. JOHNSON, of Camp 13th regiment, Wisconsin, son of H. A. Johnson, Esq. of Warren, Wallworth county, Wis., in the 25th year of his age.

Surrounded with all desirable home comforts and many friends, he heard the call of his country and hastened to the rescue. He was a true patriot. His earthly remains were interred at Warren, on Saturday, May 10th. The occurrence of people was immense. A large delegation of men from Rock and Wallworth counties headed the procession, and with their impressive ceremonies conveyed his body to the grave.
